Training/Seminar/Webinar/Activity Title:

Achieve Digital Literacy through Spreadsheet Skills Training: Capability Enhancement Training on MS Excel for Alternative Learning System (ALS) Teachers and Learners in Indang, Cavite

Proponent/s:

Department of Information Technology (DIT), College of Engineering and information Technology (CEIT)

VI. Rationale:

The productivity and efficiency in many aspects rely on the ability to analyze and manage data, thus, the digital literacy is integrated into the learning process. This is recognized in the Strand 6: Digital Literacy of the Department of Education's Alternative Learning System (ALS) – K to 12 Basic Education Program curriculum. The training titled "Achieve Digital Literacy through Spreadsheet Skills Training: Capacity Building on MS Excel for Alternative Learning System (ALS) Teachers and Learners in Indang" aims to provide learners with different essential spreadsheet skills that will develop their ability to organize, compute, and interpret information effectively. For ALS teachers, mastering MS Excel will strengthen their teaching strategies and assessment practices, while ALS learners will gain practical skills applicable to both academic and real-life contexts such as budgeting, record-keeping, and small business management.

This initiative promotes inclusive and equitable access to lifelong learning opportunities (SDG 4), provide equal learning opportunities to both male and female marginalized participants (SDG 5), and fosters digital skills that are crucial for employability and entrepreneurship (SDG 8). Also, the training promoting utilization of innovation and technologies (SDG 9), bridge the gap between traditional and non-formal education sectors (SDG 10), and promote collaboration with the community, academic institutions and other stakeholders (SDG 17).

IV. Objectives:

At the end of this activity, the ALS learners and teachers shall:

1. Be familiarized with the MS Excel environment, basic and intermediate spreadsheet functions;
2. Develop their ability to perform basic calculations using simple formulas and functions to solve everyday problems like computing expenses; and
3. create and organize simple spreadsheets for practical applications, such as making a personal budget, attendance sheet, or simple record-keeping table.
